

November Orthopaedic Imaging Workshop

This course aims to cover the common indications for, and findings of imaging in the frequently imaged areas of sport horses, including the foot, digital flexor tendon sheath, fetlock, tarsus, proximal metatarsus, stifle and spine. The lectures will utilise case scenarios and will focus on radiography and ultrasonography, covering advanced imaging indications and findings where applicable. The second day will provide practical tips on ultrasonography before groups rotate between practical ultrasonography sessions, aiming to develop delegates skills in this area, and film reading cases. A group discussion of the film reading cases will close the course.
